

ROALD DAHL'S
WILLY WONKA

A Letter from John Siedenbergh II, Artistic Director

Welcome to the Wonderful World of Wonka!

It has been such an exciting month here at Stage Right as the team behind this show began to bring it to life. The fearless leadership of director Michael Yarick, the team of incredible professional artisans building the props, costumes, and scenic elements, and the talents of our wonderful cast have made every day of this new year a discover in "pure imagination".

This show is our annual Pro/Am production, meaning that our cast is a blend of professional artists and less-experienced performers. This allows us to support professional artists in the region while also providing experience in a professional company to actors still building their resumes. At this performance you will see the combined talents and work of almost 30 people.

Thank you so much for supporting live theatre, and thank you for supporting the incredible work of this team of storytellers.

-John Siedenbergh II
